LAND AREAS

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—(UP)—Six persons were killed and several others injured in floods and severe windstorms which whipped through the southwest early today, causing thousands of dollars in damage and leaving hundreds of persons homeless.

Tornadoes were reported at a half dozen places in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas. A deluge of rain followed in the wake of the windstorms and flooded lowland areas for miles.

The dead:
Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Shawnee, drowned. She had previously been reported missing.

Mr. Lewis, Shawnee, drowned.
Mrs. Anna Green, 25, of Topeka—killed when a strong wind blew over a chicken house, burying her in the wreckage.

The 12-year-old son of Mrs. Marion Spears of Lincoln, Ark., killed when the Spears home was struck by a tornado.

Two women were washed away by flood waters.

Several persons were reported missing and an undetermined number injured by floods and wind. A deluge of rain struck Shawnee, Okla., washing scores of houses from foundations and leaving 1,000 persons homeless.

The rain came down in torrents in Shawnee for more than an hour. Lowlands were flooded and families were forced to flee their homes. Two women were reported swept away by flood waters. Others were still missing as rescue workers attempted to clear the lowlands of habitation when the storm subsided.

Hail followed the rain and smashed scores of windows and roofs. Thrilling rescue scenes were reported as rescue squads entered homes and aided families to highlands or roofs of buildings. The water in the vicinity of Shawnee reached a depth of five feet and then subsided quickly after the storm had spent its force.

Shawnee, Okla., April 5.—Two persons were known dead, several were reported missing and approximately two square miles of Shawnee lay devastated today by a flood.

Property damage was estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The flood followed a cloudburst between 7:30 and 8:30 P. M. last night when a total of 6.81 inches of rain fell, sweeping swift surface waters into the city.

With dawn today Shawnee anxiously checked its flood damage and searched the debris for bodies of missing residents of the lowlands.

Relatives and friends at daybreak anxiously searched the flood waters of the creek for bodies of the missing.

More than 1,000 were made homeless by the storm. About 200 houses were totally or partially destroyed by the wall of water.

Dallas, Texas, April 5.—High winds and torrential downpours struck several parts of Texas last night, injuring several persons and causing considerable property damage.

Kansas City, Mo., April 5.—A wind and rain storm that swept across Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas last night left six known dead, six missing and hundreds homeless today. Damage to property was incalculable, but would reach thousands of dollars.

A cloudburst at Shawnee, Okla., was the storm's climax. More than six inches of rain fell. Six feet of water ran down the main street.

Mrs. Joseph Campbell and John T. Lewis were drowned in the flood. Six other persons were missing.

The high wind started in Kansas, a few miles from Wichita, about 8 o'clock last night. It traveled south and southeast, reaching tornado velocity at intervals and wrecking innumerable buildings.

In Kansas, Mrs. Anna Green was killed when the wind blew over a chicken house. The 12-year-old son of Mrs. Marion Spears of Lincoln, Ark., was killed when the wind struck the Spears home.

The storm reached Dallas, Texas, at 4:30 A. M. today. Water and

WOMAN SEEKS CUSTODY OF POLICE DOGS

Chicago, April 5.—(UP)—There were no children in the Schallert family, so Mrs. Helen Schallert, in her divorce petition, will seek custody of two German police dogs. LA FOLLETTE INDEPENDENT PLATFORM GIVEN

HAS NEW EMBELLISHMENTS ON OIL SCANDALS, WATER-POWER

ALSO THIRD TERMS, TO BE PRE-SENTED REPUBLICAN NA-TIONAL CONVENTION

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 5.—The LaFollette independent platform with new embellishments on oil scandals, waterpower, and third terms, will be put before the republican national convention at Kansas City.

The platform will be backed by the strength of probably 34 or more delegates instructed for Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska as a republican presidential candidate.

This development has been made certain by results of the Wisconsin primary Tuesday, according to spokesmen for the LaFollette group here. Reports from Wisconsin indicate Norris will have perhaps 15 of the 26 delegates of that state. Next Tuesday Norris is to go before the republican voters of his own state, and is expected to receive the complete state delegation of 19.

Republican leaders regard the prospective Norris bloc of at least 34 delegates as of major importance in another connection, because at any tense moment of the convention it might be thrown to another farm candidate and against an anti-Norris-Haugen bill candidate to bring about a nomination.

The Norris-LaFollette group is opposed to the nomination of Secretary of Commerce Hoover because its leaders believe he is opposed to farm relief measures.

The LaFollette platform to be presented as a minority report from the convention resolutions committee is expected to criticize silence in the administration in connection with the Teapot Dome developments; advocate government development of waterpower resources; decry third presidential terms, and advocate restrictions on election expenditures.

BARREL OF WHISKEY CATCHES ON FIRE; FIVE MEN BURNED

Colorado, Texas, April 5.—(UP)—Five men were burned, one probably fatally, when a barrel of whiskey caught fire in the county jail here last night.

Sheriff Richard Gregory, deputies B. F. Rice and Joe Deering, Joseph Bass and a negro porter were the victims. They were transferring whiskey into a container to take to a sanitarium at Wichita Falls. One tire room burst into flames.

They lighted a match and the en-

MINNEAPOLIS MAN 'COMES TO' FAR AWAY FROM HOME

Des Moines, Ia., April 5.—(UP)—Al Saunders, 26, of Minneapolis, was held in jail here today pending word from his family. He said he awoke yesterday and found himself near Monroe, Ia. He remembered leaving his home in Minneapolis early Monday morning, he told police, but did not know how he got to Monroe.

Saunders gave detectives a .32 caliber revolver and 50 cartridges. He was unable to tell how he came in possession of the gun and ammunition.

Wind caused property damage and disruption of communication and transportation systems. No lives were lost.

Chauncey M. Depew, 93, Chairman of Board of New York Central, Dies of Pneumonia

HOME FROM SOUTH, HE HAD BEEN ILL ONLY FEW WEEKS

CONTRACTED BRONCHIAL PNEU-MONIA, END CAME AT 5 A. M.

WIFE, SON AND NIECE WERE AT HIS BEDSIDE WHEN DEATH CAME

New York, April 5.—(UP)—Chauncey Depew, 93 years old and chairman of the board of the New York Central railroad, died early today of pneumonia.

Doctors watched over the veteran railroad executive throughout the night. His condition gradually became weaker and at 4 A. M. members of the family were called to the bedside.

Within an hour Depew was dead.

He had been ill only a few weeks.

Recently he was in Florida and contracted bronchial trouble. He was brought back to New York, and en route home suffered a severe chill. Last night doctors said he had developed bronchial pneumonia, but added they did not believe his condition was alarming. Members of the family were called in, however.

Mrs. Depew, a son, Chauncey M. Depew, Jr., and a niece, Miss Ann Paulding were at the bedside when Depew died.

He had been semi-conscious all throughout the night, after suffering the sudden relapse late Wednesday, doctors said. Earlier in the week he was unconscious but had rallied. Doctors said he apparently was regaining strength when the final setback came.

Chauncey Depew and his optimistic views towards life had become one of the nation's institutions.

He would have been 94 years old on April 24 and before he left Florida was looking forward eagerly to April 23 when he would again meet newspapermen—an annual occasion—and give his now famous version on how to attain longevity of life.

"Do everything and anything you want, but do it in moderation. In this way you ease yourself mentally and do not hurt yourself physically," was his creed.

Every year he told newspapermen this, exchanged jokes with them and seemed to enjoy hugely his good health. He looked forward to attaining an age of 100.

Depew was born at Peekskill, N. Y., in 1834 at a homestead that had been in possession of the family for 200 years.

He received his early education in the Peekskill schools and entered Yale when he was 18 years old. He graduated with the class of 1856 and immediately entered politics.

It was the first year that the newly formed republican party had entered a candidate for the presidency and Depew entered with a zest into the political life. In the meantime he studied law in a private law office in Peekskill and in 1858 was admitted to the bar.

His first political speeches were made in behalf of the candidacy of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. It was during a series of speeches for Lincoln that Depew's ability as a humorist—an ability that kept aglow up to a few days before his death—first became noticed.

He was elected to the New York state assembly in 1862 and in 1863 was elected secretary of state of New York. He was offered an ambassadorship to Japan but declined because he wanted to consider an offer of Commodore Vanderbilt to be counsel for the New York Central and Hudson River railroad.

He couldn't remain out of politics, however. In 1872 he backed Horace Greeley who was running as a candidate for lieutenant governor of New York. Greeley was badly defeated.

In 1899 the state assembly elected Depew a senator for six years and did the same again in 1904.

Depew in the meantime had started rising in the railroad. In 1882 he was elected second vice president of the New York Central railroad; in 1885 he assumed the presidency. (Continued on Page 6)

INTEREST RATES ON STATE TRUST FUND LOANS REDUCED

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Interest rates on state trust fund loans made to school districts, municipalities and other civic units of the state were reduced from 14 to 4 per cent, the prevailing rate of interest for 30 years prior to the world war, by order of state investment board.

A high mark of 5 per cent was hit in 1920, followed by drop to 4½ and then 4¼ per cent. Loans already under contract are not affected by the interest reduction.

The investment board consists of the governor, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general and president of the university board of regents.

4,000 RAILWAY CLERKS OF G. N. GET WAGE RAISE

4 CENTS AN HOUR INCREASE,
RETROACTIVE TO AUGUST,
1927

INCREASE ADDS $500,000 ANNU-ALLY TO PAYROLL OF RAILROAD

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Four thousand members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks on the Great Northern system will receive an increase in wages of 4 cents an hour, retroactive to August, 1927, it was disclosed here today with the filing of its report by the board of arbitration.

The increase will add approximately $500,000 annually to the payroll of the railroad, it was indicated.

The movement for the increase was launched by the clerks three years ago. Three times a settlement was near but the controversy finally went to the arbitration board in January with a demand for an increase of 10 cents an hour.

It was learned that J. A. Cochran, who represented the railroad on the board, has prepared a dissenting report. He insists, it is said, that conditions in the northwest do not warrant the increase, and that "such action will prevent any possibility of rate reduction or make it possible to give the northwest the kind of service it requires."

UTMOST SECRECY VEILS GOVERNMENT MOVES IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 5.—(UP)—Chicago speculated today upon the outcome of the federal government's investigation into the bombings, assassinations and shootings which have marked the pre-primary campaign in this city and county.

The government's investigation was being made through the federal grand jury and a detail of special intelligence agents.

Utmost secrecy veiled every move of the government authorities.

Columbus, O., April 5.—(UP)—While hundreds watched helplessly from the streets below, a woman said to be Mrs. J. Dearborn of Warren, O., hung by her hands from a window ledge on the 28th floor of a building here today for more than 15 minutes before she was rescued.

TAX REDUCTION APPEARS CERTAIN, AMOUNT IN DOUBT

COMMITTEE MEMBERS OPPOSED
TO REDUCTION OF OVER
$201,000,000

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS FAVOR
A SLASH OF APPROXIMATE-
LY $300,000,000

By KENNETH CRAWFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 5.—Tax reduction before adjournment of congress appeared a certainty today with the senate finance committee on record unanimously favoring a cut. The exact amount of reduction and the taxes to be affected remained in doubt, however.

Republican members of the committee, which is considering the $289,000,000 house bill, are opposed to a reduction of more than $201,000,000, the approximate maximum recommended by the treasury department, while democratic members favor a $300,000,000 slash.

Republicans won their first fight yesterday when the committee voted to reduce the corporation tax from the present 13½ per cent to 12 per cent. The house bill provides for 11½ per cent and the democrats favored 11 per cent, but were defeated by a strictly party vote of 11 to 9.

Another close contest is expected when the committee takes up the house bill provision for repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax. The democrats favor repeal and may win some republican support despite the opposition of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Senator Couzens of Michigan, a republican member of the committee, is principal champion of automobile tax repeal in the senate. He probably will desert his party to vote with the democrats on that item.

Administrative provision of the house bill will be considered at another executive committee hearing today. Intermediate surtax and amusement features will be taken up later. No hearings will be held unless the democrats insist that automobile manufacturers be given an opportunity to present their case for repeal of the automobile tax.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democratic member of the committee, has announced he will carry his fight for large tax reduction to the floor of the senate if defeated in the committee.

CHIEF ENGINEER IS BLAMED FOR S. FRANCIS, CALIF., DAM DISASTER

Los Angeles, April 5.—(UP)—Entire responsibility for locating and building the St. Francis Dam, which collapsed with a loss of some 300 lives, was placed on the shoulders of William Mulholland, chief engineer of the water department, today by R. S. Delvalle, president of the board of water and power commissioners.

Delvalle told members of the Los Angeles coroner's jury that implicit confidence in Mulholland's ability and judgment was the reason that the commissioners kept their hands off the detailed work of the chief engineer.

2 Fires at Ocean City Laid to Incendiarism

Ocean City, N. J., April 5.—(UP)—Two fires, apparently of incendiary origin, damaged three buildings today, causing loss estimated at $208,000.

The fires broke out simultaneously. The structures damaged were all near the boardwalk.

Police Chief Howard T. Johnson began an investigation, convinced that the fires were part of a campaign against a proposed mercantile tax. He received anonymous letters recently, saying that if the tax went through police officials would be killed and fires would be started.

NAVIGATION ON UPPER RIVER OPENS MIDNIGHT

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Navigation on the upper Mississippi river opened for the 1928 season with the arrival of the S. S. Thorpe and four barges here at midnight.

The carrying out of a regular schedule of two arrivals and two sailings a week will be started within ten days, it was announced.

75 REBELS, 10 AGRARIANS AND 3 FEDEALS SLAIN

MANY BATTLES NOW RAGING IN INTERIOR OF OLD
MEXICO

ADVISED REACH CAPITAL, HAND-TO-HAND ENCOUNTERS
FREQUENT

Mexico City, April 5.—(UP)—Seventy-five rebels, 10 agrarians and three federal troopers have been killed in battles in the interior, advances reaching the capital today said.

Fifty Mexican rebels were killed in a fierce battle near Patzcuaro, in the state of Michoacan, the newspaper Excelsior was informed. The agrarians, putting up strong resistance, lost ten men. The rebels were driven off after a hand-to-hand encounter.

Rebels who attacked the town of Tequila, state of Jalisco—the rebel center—were decisively defeated by a column of federal troops. The rebels had surprised the inhabitants of Tequila but were surprised, in turn, to find themselves opposed by an organized local defense force.

There was a four-hour battle in which five members of the local force were killed. Rebel casualties could not be ascertained.

Federal troops, summoned to the assistance of the Tequila garrison, came too late for the battle but they pursued the rebels.

Guadalajara dispatches said the rebels succeeded in catching up with them. In a short encounter, 20 rebels and four federals, including one officer were killed.

The same column of government troops also discovered a rebel arsenal, composed of three caves, one of which contained 200 hand grenades.

Four rebels were shot defending the cave containing the grenades.

POSTAL RECEIPTS HAVE DECREASED

Washington, April 5.—(UP)—Postal receipts decreased $319,153.09 or .98 per cent during March the post office department announced today. Receipts totaled $34,280,583.13 for the month.

Memphis, Tenn., led all other cities with an increase of 23.87 per cent. Akron, Ohio, was second, with an increase of 22.95 per cent and Minneapolis was third with an increase of 14.53.

Kansas City, Mo., showed an increase of 5.53 per cent.

KEROSENE IN COAL STOVE EXPLODES; ONE DEAD, THREE INJURED

Robbinsdale, Minn., April 5.—(UP)—One man is dead and three members of his family burned when kerosene poured into a coal stove exploded here today.

Malin Jacobs, 50, was fatally burned, and died at a Minneapolis hospital. Jacobs' wife and two sons were severely burned about the face and body. The sons are Roy, 17, and Wesley, 15.

Wanted to Disqualify Members Interested in Rubber Companies

Washington, April 5.—(UP)—Rep. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) created a mild sensation in the house today when he demanded that members who might be interested in rubber companies be disqualified from voting on the Newton bill, permitting buying pools by rubber and other importers in this country. Speaker Longworth, however, overruled La Guardia's point of order against such members.

FARMER-LABOR SOUGHT HIM FOR GOVERNOR

CLOSE FRIENDS INDICATE POSI-
TION OF MINNEAPOLIS
MAN

TO BE FOLLOWED BY HIS OWN
STATEMENT IN A FEW DAYS

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Floyd B. Olson, Minneapolis, will not accept the farmer-labor nomination for governor, it was indicated by close friends today.

The reports of friends will be followed by a statement from Olson early next week, it was said.

When asked whether or not he would be a candidate against Gov. Theodore Christianson, Olson said "I intend to answer that question in a statement to be issued perhaps Monday. This will give them ample time in which to select another candidate," he added by way of elucidating his prior statement.

Four years ago Olson, then as now, county attorney of Hennepin county, won the farmer-labor gubernatorial nomination from Tom Davis, also of Minneapolis. He was defeated in the fall election by Gov. Christianson, 406,692 to 366,029.

When the farmer-labor association met here a week ago it endorsed Olson as the party candidate for governor, although he told a committee sent to see him that he did not want the nomination. The delegates, however, refused to accept this as final, and voted the endorsement, the leaders hoping to "draft" him as head of the state ticket.

It is now evident that Olson has not changed his mind, and that he will stand by his earlier refusals to make the race.

OFFICERS AND CREW STICK TO THEIR GROUNDED VESSEL

Tutuila, Samoa, April 5.—(UP)—Officers and the crew of the freighter Steelmaker, which is aground on Mitchell Island of the Ellice group, remained aboard the vessel today, although squally weather prevailed.

Food supply of the vessel was diminished rapidly and the U. S. S. Tanager, which was standing by, was asked for spare supplies.

The rescue tug Peacock sailed from Los Angeles harbor Wednesday and will reach here April 18.

Capt. Dewar Found Guilty by a Court Martial at Gibraltar

4,000 RAILWAY CLERKS OF G. N. GET WAGE RAISE

4 CENTS AN HOUR INCREASE,
RETROACTIVE TO AUGUST,
1927

INCREASE ADDS $500,000 ANNU-ALLY TO PAYROLL OF RAILROAD

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Four thousand members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks on the Great Northern system will receive an increase in wages of 4 cents an hour, retroactive to August, 1927, it was disclosed here today with the filing of its report by the board of arbitration.

The increase will add approximately $500,000 annually to the payroll of the railroad, it was indicated.

The movement for the increase was launched by the clerks three years ago. Three times a settlement was near but the controversy finally went to the arbitration board in January with a demand for an increase of 10 cents an hour.

It was learned that J. A. Cochran, who represented the railroad on the board, has prepared a dissenting report. He insists, it is said that conditions in the northwest do not warrant the increase, and that "such action will prevent any possibility of rate reduction or make it possible to give the northwest the kind of service it requires."

UTMOST SECRECY VEILS GOVERNMENT MOVES IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 5.—(UP)—Chicago speculated today upon the outcome of the federal government's investigation into the bombings, assassinations and shootings which have marked the pre-primary campaign in this city and county.

The government's investigation was being made through the federal grand jury and a detail of special intelligence agents.

Utmost secrecy veiled every move of the government authorities.

Columbus, O., April 5.—(UP)—While hundreds watched helplessly from the streets below, a woman said to be Mrs. J. Dearborn of Warren, O., hung by her hands from a window ledge on the 28th floor of a building here today for more than 15 minutes before she was rescued.

TAX REDUCTION APPEARS CERTAIN, AMOUNT IN DOUBT

COMMITTEE MEMBERS OPPOSED
TO REDUCTION OF OVER
$201,000,000

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS FAVOR
A SLASH OF APPROXIMATE-
LY $300,000,000

By KENNETH CRAWFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 5.—Tax reduction before adjournment of congress appeared a certainty today with the senate finance committee on record unanimously favoring a cut. The exact amount of reduction and the taxes to be affected remained in doubt, however.

Republican members of the committee, which is considering the $289,000,000 house bill, are opposed to a reduction of more than $201,000,000, the approximate maximum recommended by the treasury department, while democratic members favor a $300,000,000 slash.

Republicans won their first fight yesterday when the committee voted to reduce the corporation tax from the present 13 1/2 per cent to 12 per cent. The house bill provides for 11 1/2 per cent and the democrats favored 11 per cent, but were defeated by a strictly party vote of 11 to 9.

Another close contest is expected when the committee takes up the house bill provision for repeal of the 3 per cent automobile tax. The democrats favor repeal and may win some republican support despite the opposition of Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

Senator Couzens of Michigan, a republican member of the committee, is principal champion of automobile tax repeal in the senate. He probably will desert his party to vote with the democrats on that item.

Administrative provision of the house bill will be considered at another executive committee hearing today. Intermediate surtax and amusement features will be taken up later. No hearings will be held unless the democrats insist that automobile manufacturers be given an opportunity to present their case for repeal of the automobile tax.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democratic member of the committee, has announced he will carry his fight for large tax reduction to the floor of the senate if defeated in the committee.

CHIEF ENGINEER IS BLAMED FOR S. FRANCIS, CALIF., DAM DISASTER

Los Angeles, April 5.—(UP)—Entire responsibility for locating and building the St. Francis Dam, which collapsed with a loss of some 500 lives, was placed on the shoulders of William Mulholland, chief engineer of the water department, today by R. S. Delvalle, president of the board of water and power commissioners.

Delvalle told members of the Los Angeles coroner's jury that implicit confidence in Mulholland's ability and judgment was the reason that the commissioners kept their hands off the detailed work of the chief engineer.

2 Fires at Ocean City Laid to Incendiarism

Ocean City, N. J., April 5.—(UP)—Two fires, apparently of incendiary origin, damaged three buildings today, causing loss estimated at $208,000.

The fires broke out simultaneously. The structures damaged were all near the boardwalk.

Police Chief Howard T. Johnson began an investigation, convinced that the fires were part of a campaign against a proposed mercantile tax. He received anonymous letters recently, saying that if the tax went through police officials would be killed and fires would be started.

NAVIGATION ON UPPER RIVER OPENS MIDNIGHT

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Navigation on the upper Mississippi river opened for the 1928 season with the arrival of the S. S. Thorpe and four barges here at midnight.

The carrying out of a regular schedule of two arrivals and two sailings a week will be started within ten days, it was announced.

75 REBELS, 10 AGRARIANS AND 3 FEDEALS SLAIN

MANY BATTLES NOW RAGING IN INTERIOR OF OLD
MEXICO

ADVISED REACH CAPITAL, HAND-TO-HAND ENCOUNTERS
FREQUENT

Mexico City, April 5.—(UP)—

Seventy-five rebels, 10 agrarians and three federal troopers have been killed in battles in the interior, advances reaching the capital today said.

Fifty Mexican rebels were killed in a fierce battle near Patzcuaro, in the state of Michoacan, the newspaper Excelsior was informed. The agrarians, putting up strong resistance, lost ten men. The rebels were driven off after a hand-to-hand encounter.

Rebels who attacked the town of Tequila, state of Jalisco—the rebel center—were decisively defeated by a column of federal troops. The rebels had surprised the inhabitants of Tequila but were surprised, in turn, to find themselves opposed by an organized local defense force.

There was a four-hour battle in which five members of the local force were killed. Rebel casualties could not be ascertained.

Federal troops, summoned to the assistance of the Tequila garrison, came too late for the battle but they pursued the rebels.

Guadalajara dispatches said the rebels succeeded in catching up with them. In a short encounter, 20 rebels and four federals, including one officer were killed.

The same column of government troops also discovered a rebel arsenal, composed of three caves, one of which contained 200 hand grenades.

Four rebels were shot defending the cave containing the grenades.

POSTAL RECEIPTS HAVE DECREASED

Washington, April 5.—(UP)—Postal receipts decreased $319,153.09 or .98 per cent during March the post office department announced today. Receipts totalled $34,280,583.13 for the month.

Memphis, Tenn., led all other cities with an increase of 23.87 per cent. Akron, Ohio, was second, with an increase of 22.05 per cent and Minneapolis was third with an increase of 14.53.

Kansas City, Mo., showed an increase of 5.53 per cent.

KEROSENE IN COAL STOVE EXPLODES; ONE DEAD, THREE INJURED

Robbinsdale, Minn., April 15.—(UP)—One man is dead and three members of his family burned when kerosene poured into a coal stove exploded here today.

Malin Jacobs, 50, was fatally burned, and died at a Minneapolis hospital. Jacobs' wife and two sons were severely burned about the face and body.

The sons are Roy, 17, and Wesley, 15.

Wanted to Disqualify Members Interested in Rubber Companies

Washington, April 5.—(UP)—Rep. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) created a mild sensation in the house today when he demanded that members who might be interested in rubber companies be disqualified from voting on the Newton bill, permitting buying pools by rubber and other importers in this country. Speaker Longworth, however, overruled La Guardia's point of order against such members.

FARMER-LABOR SOUGHT HIM FOR GOVERNOR

CLOSE FRIENDS INDICATE POSI-
TION OF MINNEAPOLIS
MAN

TO BE FOLLOWED BY HIS OWN
STATEMENT IN A FEW DAYS

St. Paul, April 5.—(UP)—Floyd B. Olson, Minneapolis, will not accept the farmer-labor nomination for governor, it was indicated by close friends today.

The reports of friends will be followed by a statement from Olson early next week, it was said.

When asked whether or not he would be a candidate against Gov. Theodore Christianson, Olson said "I intend to answer that question in a statement to be issued perhaps Monday. This will give them ample time in which to select another candidate," he added by way of elucidating his prior statement.

Four years ago Olson, then as now, county attorney of Hennepin county, won the farmer-labor gubernatorial nomination from Tom Davis, also of Minneapolis. He was defeated in the fall election by Gov. Christianson, 406,692 to 366,029.

When the farmer-labor association met here a week ago it endorsed Olson as the party candidate for governor, although he told a committee sent to see him that he did not want the nomination. The delegates, however, refused to accept this as final, and voted the endorsement, the leaders hoping to "draft" him as head of the state ticket.

It is now evident that Olson has not changed his mind, and that he will stand by his earlier refusal to make the race.

OFFICERS AND CREW STICK TO THEIR GROUNDED VESSEL

Tutuila, Samoa, April 5.—(UP)—Officers and the crew of the freighter Steelmaker, which is aground on Mitchell Island of the Ellice group, remained aboard the vessel today, although equally weather preyed.

Food supply of the vessel was diminished rapidly and the U. S. S. Tanager, which was standing by, was asked for spare supplies.

The rescue tug Peacock sailed from Los Angeles harbor Wednesday and will reach here April 18.

THE KNOT HOLE

Vol. 3

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1928

No. 15

With this issue we sing our swan song as editor of the "Knot Hole."

We hope you have enjoyed reading it during the past two years.

We've tried to make it interesting—if not instructive—and we've done our best to make it a non-political organ.

We've enjoyed our six years residence in this friendly little city and have tried to contribute "our bit" toward its betterment.

It has been a real pleasure to be one of you and to "rub elbows" with you in both a business and social way.

You've been very kind to us—much more than we deserve—and we want you to know that we deeply appreciate all that you've done for us.

Our successor, Mr. Paul Schultdt of Janesville, Minnesota, is now on the job busily engaged in correcting the many errors we have made and trying to find a house.

You'll like Paul. We've known him for six years and we know him to be a splendid fellow and one that you will enjoy meeting.

He will tell you all about STAND-ARD COAL, Mule Hide roofing and the many other high grade items of merchandise that is carried in stock.

And that's that.

The difference between husbands and furnaces they tell us, is this: Husbands go out and get lit. Furnaces get lit and go out.

The wild desert tribes in Africa pay no taxes. We wonder then what makes 'em wild.

Some people are born with a gold spoon in their mouth—others have tonsillitis.

THE KNOT HOLE

Vol. 3 THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1928 No. 15

With this issue we sing our swan song as editor of the "Knot Hole."

We hope you have enjoyed reading it during the past two years.

We've tried to make it interesting—if not instructive—and we've done our best to make it a non-political organ.

We've enjoyed our six years residence in this friendly little city and have tried to contribute "our bit" toward its betterment.

It has been a real pleasure to be one of you and to "rub elbows" with you in both a business and social way.

You've been very kind to us—much more than we deserve—and we want you to know that we deeply appreciate all that you've done for us.

Our successor, Mr. Paul Schuldt of Janesville, Minnesota, is now on the job busily engaged in correcting the many errors we have made and trying to find a house.

You'll like Paul. We've known him for six years and we know him to be a splendid fellow and one that you will enjoy meeting.

He will tell you all about STANDARD COAL, Mule Hide roofing and the many other high grade items of merchandise that is carried in stock.

And that's that.

The difference between husbands and furnaces they tell us, is this: Husbands go out and get lit. Furnaces get lit and go out.

The wild desert tribes in Africa pay no taxes. We wonder then what makes 'em wild.

Some people are born with a gold spoon in their mouth—others have tonsillitis.

S. A. FLOYD RITES HERE SATURDAY

Will be Conducted From the Residence, 723 Ninth Street, N. E. at 3 P. M.

INTERMENT AT EVERGREEN

Out of City Relatives to Attend; Life of Deceased Was Replete With Incidents

Arrangements were completed today for the burial of S. A. Floyd, pioneer of the west, who passed away last Monday evening. Rites will be conducted from the residence at 723 Ninth street N. E. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Morris L. Eversz officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Through his entire life Mr. Floyd maintained an admirable cheerful aspect on life. He was a friend to the large number of children who knew him, and respected by his older companions.

His early life as an employee of the United States government engaged in quelling Indian uprisings in the Black Hills and the Colorado was replete with incidents. He was known as one of the earliest builders in this city and later became well known through his association in Floyd's Travelling Show when he showed educational moving pictures to school children around Brainerd.

Among out of the city relatives who will attend the funeral are the following: Mrs. Eva Moore and son Norman, of Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth of Little Falls and a daughter, Mrs. Alice Soderstrom, of Bend, Oregon.

The Chest Clinic

The work of the sanatorium is not only carried on in the institution itself, but in the clinics which are held throughout the counties during each month. These chest clinics are held for the benefit of the public, not only with the idea of discovering new cases, but to keep in touch with the discharged patients. Every week one or more ex-sanatorium patients comes into the clinic for re-examination. This gives us the opportunity of keeping in touch with the discharged patient, which is an important part of sanatorium work.

The regular monthly clinics are held as follows: second Saturday of each month in Brainerd, in the office of the county nurse in the court house; third Saturday of each month in Aitkin in the Washington block; fourth Saturday of each month in Crosby in the Armory. These clinics are held from 2 to 4 p. m. and are free.

During the summer months, when the roads permit, a series of clinics will be held throughout Aitkin and Crow Wing counties in various towns. They will be advertised in the local papers.

REVIEWS DURANT'S BOOK

"The Story of Philosophy," Gives Sketches Rather Than History Says Rev. A. G. Patterson

At the Brainerd Minister's Association last Monday, Rev. A. G. Patterson gave an able review of Professor Durant's book entitled "The Story of Philosophy."

"It is book on a profound subject written, however, in popular magazine style. It is like 'Whipped Cream on Stale Bread' said Mr. Patterson, 'but however popular the style in which truth is presented it does not become of permanent value until the public grasps the objectives and ideals set forth.'"

"Philosophy employs five means to reach the truth, the logical, which guides our reason with discretion in the general knowledge of things, the ethical, which interprets conduct, the aesthetical, which seeks truth in beauty, the political, which extracts values from the social order, and the metaphysical, which seeks to converge all trails to the ultimate.

Durant, in a light airy style considers philosophers like Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Francis Bacon, Spinoza, Voltaire, Kant, Hegel, Schopenhauer, Spencer, Nietzsche, Darwin, Bergson, Santayana, James and John Dewey, yet the book cannot really be called a history of philosophy but rather sketches of philosophers because it overleaps a period of 1883 years from Aristotle—322 B. C. to Francis Bacon 1561 A. D., leaving out of the entire reckoning a philosopher like Augustine, whose system influenced European thought for a thousand years. That some scientists have been atheists no more affects the truth than a fly lighting on a rail could throw a locomotive from the tracks," said Rev. Patterson.

The paper was given in Rev. Patterson's best style and favorably commented on by all present.

Rev. H. W. Mitchell of Staples was introduced and accorded the privileges of the association. At next meeting, Monday, May 7, Rev. August Samuelson will review Dean Sperry's book, "Reality in Worship." This will also be the final meeting of the year at which the officers will be elected for the following year and committees appointed.

CITY LIFE RESULTS IN CONSTIPATION

Science Says 90% of Modern City People are Sufferers

Constipation is a real danger. You may suffer without knowing the cause—even if your bowel movements are regular they may not be complete, and the same decayed material found in cases of irregularity may be present in your system, poisoning you slowly.

Headaches, lassitude, loss of vitality, salivary cheeks, nervousness, and increased susceptibility to serious disease which may result in premature disability or death—this is the price of intestinal poisoning. Don't take chances with it!

Soft life and soft diet cause the trouble. Add roughage to your diet—it protected primitive man, and it will protect you. Don't form the dangerous laxative habit—the natural way is best. Add true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran—to your diet. It is the best source of the bulk and roughage which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is unswetened, uncooked, and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on every package. Eat it some way three times a day.

Gilda Says Nautch Is Not Naughty

Is the nautch a naughty dance? Or is the nautch rhythmic movement of the body, artistically done, and therefore classed as an art? The answer, according to those who know, simply depends upon the one doing the syncretized dance.

Of course the "Shimmy" by any other name would shake as mean a shoulder. But the nautch as performed by Gilda Gray, who opens tonight at the Lyceum theatre in "The Devil Dancer," is an art and not a wanton wriggle, as some who have not seen it may be inclined to believe.

We Believe in A Woman's Right To Be Beautiful

Long ago Puritan America decreed that beauty must be largely a cultivation of the inner virtues. Feminine faces, except for a dab of talcum powder, were as Nature made them. If Nature had been unkind—or forgetful—one's only hope lay in "good works" and an early demise.

Today all is changed. Lipsticks and the rouge pots are part of the modern women's rebellion against household drudgery. Once she had to bend over a hot cookstove, or a steaming wash tub six days a week. Today she presses a button and has plenty of time left over to make herself attractive.

We always smile rather happily when we pass our Cosmetic Department. It is more than just a counter where one may buy excellent toilet preparations for a modest sum. It is a visible symbol that Beauty once more has resumed her rightful place—that feminine charm and allurements are not to be banished utterly from the face of the earth.

Drink Water If Back or Kidneys Hurt

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Weakness

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urino-waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day.

S. A. FLOYD RITES HERE SATURDAY

Will be Conducted From the Residence, 723 Ninth Street, N. E. at 3 P. M.

INTERMENT AT EVERGREEN

Out of City Relatives to Attend: Life of Deceased Was Replete With Incidents

Arrangements were completed today for the burial of S. A. Floyd, pioneer of the west, who passed away last Monday evening. Rites will be conducted from the residence at 723 Ninth street N. E., Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Morris L. Evers officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Through his entire life Mr. Floyd maintained an admirable cheerful aspect on life, was a friend to the large number of children who knew him, and respected by his older companions.

His early life as an employee of the United States government engaged in quelling Indian uprisings in the Black Hills and the Colorado was replete with incidents. He was known as one of the earliest builders in this city and later became well known through his association in Floyd's Travelling Show when he showed educational moving pictures to school children around Brainerd.

Among out of the city relatives who will attend the funeral are the following: Mrs. Eva Moore and son Norman, of Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth of Little Falls and a daughter, Mrs. Alice Soderstrom, of Bend, Oregon.

The Chest Clinic

The work of the sanatorium is not only carried on in the institution itself, but in the clinics which are held throughout the counties during each month. These chest clinics are held for the benefit of the public, not only with the idea of discovering new cases, but to keep in touch with the discharged patients. Every week one or more ex-sanatorium patients comes into the clinic for re-examination. This gives us the opportunity of keeping in touch with the discharged patient, which is an important part of sanatorium work.

The regular monthly clinics are held as follows: second Saturday of each month in Brainerd, in the office of the county nurse in the court house; third Saturday of each month in Aitkin in the Washington block; fourth Saturday of each month in Crosby in the Armory. These clinics are held from 2 to 4 p. m. and are free.

During the summer months, when the roads permit, a series of clinics will be held throughout Aitkin and Crow Wing counties in various towns. They will be advertised in the local papers.

REVIEWS DURANT'S BOOK

"The Story of Philosophy," Gives Sketches Rather Than History Says Rev. A. G. Patterson

At the Brainerd Minister's Association last Monday, Rev. A. G. Patterson gave an able review of Professor Durant's book entitled "The Story of Philosophy."

"It is book on a profound subject written, however, in popular magazine style. It is like 'Whipped Cream on Stale Bread' said Mr. Patterson, 'but however popular the style in which truth is presented it does not become of permanent value until the public grasps the objectives and ideals set forth.'"

"Philosophy employs five means to reach the truth, the logical, which guides our reason with discretion in the general knowledge of things, the ethical, which interprets conduct, the aesthetical, which seeks truth in beauty, the political, which extracts values from the social order, and the metaphysical, which seeks to converge all trails to the ultimate. Durant, in a light airy style considers philosophers like Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Francis Bacon, Spinoza, Voltaire, Kant, Hegel, Schopenhauer, Spencer, Nietzsche, Darwin, Bergson, Santayana, James and John Dewey. Yet the book cannot really be called a history of philosophy, but rather sketches of philosophers because it overlies a period of 1883 years from Aristotle—322 B. C. to Francis Bacon 1561 A. D., leaving out of the entire reckoning a philosopher like Augustine, whose system influenced European thought for a thousand years. That some scientists have been atheists no more affects the truth than a fly lighting on a rail could throw a locomotive from the tracks," said Rev. Patterson.

The paper was given in Rev. Patterson's best style and favorably commented on by all present.

Rev. H. W. Mitchell of Staples was introduced and accorded the privileges of the association. At next meeting, Monday, May 7, Rev. August Samuelson will review Dean Sperry's book, "Reality in Worship." This will also be the final meeting of the year at which the officers will be elected for the following year and committees appointed.

CITY LIFE RESULTS IN CONSTIPATION

Science Says 90% of Modern City People are Sufferers

Constipation is a real danger. You may suffer without knowing the cause—even if your bowel movements are regular they may not be complete, and the same decayed material found in cases of irregularity may be present in your system, poisoning you slowly.

Headaches, lassitude, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, and increased susceptibility to serious disease which may result in premature disability or death—this is the price of intestinal poisoning. Don't take chances with it!

Soft life and soft diet cause the trouble. Add roughage to your diet—it protected primitive man, and it will protect you. Don't form the dangerous laxative habit—the natural way is best. Add true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran—to your diet. It is the best source of the bulk and roughage which is so vital to your health.

Warning—be sure you get the right bran. When your doctor says, "Eat bran," he means a true 100% bran—Pillsbury's Health Bran. Because it is unswetened, uncooked, and unadulterated, it really does the work—you get the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes. Use it to prepare delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—recipes are on every package. Eat it some way three times a day.

Gilda Says Nautch Is Not Naughty Is the nautch a naughty dance? Or is the nautch rhythmic movement of the body, artistically done, and therefore classed as an art? The answer, according to those who know, simply depends upon the one doing the syncope dance.

Of course the "Shimmy" by any other name would shake as mean a shoulder. But the nautch as performed by Gilda Gray, who opens tonight at the Lyceum theatre in "The Devil Dancer," is an art and not a wanton wriggle, as some who have not seen it may be inclined to believe.

We Believe in A Woman's Right To Be Beautiful

Long ago Puritan America decreed that beauty must be largely a cultivation of the inner virtues. Feminine faces, except for a dab of talcum powder, were as Nature made them. If Nature had been unkind—or forgetful—one's only hope lay in "good works" and an early demise.

Today all is changed. Lipsticks and the rouge pots are part of the modern women's rebellion against household drudgery. Once she had to bend over a hot cookstove, or a steaming wash tub six days a week. Today she presses a button and has plenty of time left over to make herself attractive.

We always smile rather happily when we pass our Cosmetic Department. It is more than just a counter where one may buy excellent toilet preparations for a modest sum. It is a visible symbol that Beauty once more has resumed her rightful place—that feminine charm and allurements are not to be banished utterly from the face of the earth.

Drink Water If Back or Kidneys Hurt

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Backache or Have Bladder Weakness

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1928

FROM DAYS OF LONG AGO

JOHN L. SMITH, who has a summer home on Round and Long lakes, where the historic Chief Hole-in-the-Day and his tribe of redmen had their stamping ground, brought to the Dispatch office a book redolent of the history of the pioneer days of Brainerd, written by M. C. Russell and entitled "Uncle Dudley's Odd Hours, Being the Vagaries of a Country Editor." An appendix carries J. Proctor Knott's famous speech on Duluth. The volume was compiled and published by Miss Susie M. Russell in 1882.

Mr. Smith is a member of the State Historical society and as such is interested in the progress of the state association as well as the newly formed Crow Wing County Historical society.

There is a story on "Killing Wolves" which is applicable just now when there are so many of the animals roaming about the county. We quote:

"Several reports have reached us of late that wolves were too thick for the comfort of the farmers' pigs and sheep along the 'ravine belt' of country skirting the Mississippi valley in this region.

Needing a little exercise, anyway, and wolf-hunting being our favorite pastime, whenever they happen to be 'comeatable', we resolved to steal quietly into a few of the neighboring ravines, and spend one day at least in relieving a neighborhood or two from the dread scourge that was nightly making such havoc among the lambs and innocent little pigs, and things.

The upper edge of the sun had barely peaked across the landscape, when we entered the mouth of a densely wooded hollow, with towering bluffs on either side, holes and caves to be frequently seen away up along their craggy sides. We fixed ourself with all the modern appliances for carrying on a day's warfare against the savage monsters we were anxious to encounter—our old trusty muzzle-loader, hatchet, carving-knife, couple of doughnuts, etc.

Our path lay through thickets of prickly-ash, over logs and uneven ground, and in fact was as fine a 'wolf-ground' as we had ever seen. Of course, we had never seen much wolf country—anyway, not any, in fact—and had never hunted wolves before, except in theory, and our taste for this kind of sport was only a theoretical one; but in theory we had frequently hunted wolves, and slaughtered a large number in the same way."

Like many a hunter, Russell's one-man expedition only unearthed a jack-rabbit or two and one dismal wolf howl and he reached home and honestly told his family that he had bagged nothing.

URGES EDUCATION FOR LIFE

THE message enunciated by Mrs. Willard Bayliss, and addressed to the members of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is so important and carries such a common sense view of life, that it deserves the widest kind of publicity.

Minnesota club women are asked to work for compulsory study of home-making by girls and agriculture by boys in rural and small communities. Mrs. Bayliss cautions against educating all of the children for college instead of for life. We quote from the record of her message as carried in the St. Paul Pioneer Press:

"Remember," Mrs. Bayliss said in her message, "that the education of our children 'in the ways in which they are to go' is one thing you should know all about—the homes, the schools and the churches.

"Are they going to their own churches for training? See that every child has that opportunity. Are the children in the country getting an education that will help them earn a living when they leave the eighth grade? Or are all the children of all the schools being educated for college and not for life? Find out how many children in your town leave school after eighth grade and how many of them had any vocational training.

"Are our girls being given, before they leave school, any training in home subjects—cooking, sewing, care of the baby, health? Or do they leave school with no preparation at all on these subjects?

"How many of our boys in this wonderful agricultural state are being trained in agriculture? How many in your town are taught even the simplest matters of how to plant, what or when to plant? Why are we neglecting so great an opportunity with both our boys and girls?

"We talk about divorce. How can there be anything else when making a home happy is the last thing ever thought of in connection with a girl's education?

"We bemoan the fact that boys and girls leave home to go to the large cities. How can we expect anything else when their education has never shown them how life in the country is the most satisfying life anywhere?

"We talk incessantly of the failure of farmers to make a living. How can we expect anything else when we do not try by having agriculture taught in every school outside the largest cities to show successful methods? No training is given the boys who have to leave school by the hundreds after the eighth grade in the one subject that is to be their life work—agriculture. Will you as leaders in their community find out why our girls are not training in home-making and our boys in agriculture?"

LETTING LINDBERGH ALONE

LINDBERGH has been flying to the Pacific coast—he got there safely recently—and while he has been on his way these theories of his purpose have been current, says the Duluth Herald:

First—He was going out to take over a new airplane that had been made for him.

Second—He was going out to head a big new airplane company.

Third—He was planning to fly around the world, with a leap over the Pacific ocean as a start.

That's the way they are letting Lindbergh alone. But there is no harm in all this, and it is natural and to be expected. No harm, that is, unless by chance there should be something to that mad story about flying around the world. Probably there is nothing in it; certainly the whole nation will hope so.

A combination of the first two speculations would be about right, especially if heading a great airplane company kept him so busy that he would have no more time for stunt flights of any kind.

NEGOTIATIONS are in progress to see if St. Elmo Wright will manufacture his new aerating machine for milk and cream in Brainerd. Chamber of Commerce officers are active in inducing Mr. Wright to locate the enterprise in Brainerd.

From the thrilling FBO Drama starring Ralph Lewis

SYNOPSIS

Danny Malone, a recruit officer in New York's bluecoat army, is more interested in finding his wayward brother, Jimmy, than in either serving the department or winning the girl who loves him, Mary Gillen. An act of bravery in rescuing a boy from a runaway prompts Police Commissioner Leonard to transfer Danny from his post to the silk warehouse district where a series of bold raids by bandits have cost four patrolmen their lives and brought a threat from Alfred Dayton, Sr., a wealthy silk importer, to get Leonard's job unless the robberies stop. Jimmy Wells, a newspaper reporter, enlists Mary's aid by asking her to watch Alfred Dayton, Jr., in whose office she is employed. In the meantime, Bull Savage's gang, of which Danny Malone is a member, is planning another raid on the Dayton warehouse.

Danny marched past and Mulligan returned to his bar murmuring to himself.

"Wonder how long he's going to keep that up. Bet he'll fall some cold night, then maybe we won't have any. To hell with the cops anyway."

Mary didn't see anything of Danny now that he was on night duty and the hours passed too slowly until Saturday afternoon. She wondered a thousand times whether he would show up and each time she was certain that he would. Still she wondered and when his footsteps sounded on the stairs she rushed for her hat and coat as if loath to miss a minute of the afternoon.

"How are things going," asked Dad as Danny entered.

"Great. Where's Mary?"

Mary answered the question by est glance, Danny, however, was paying too much attention to his rowing and the careful preparation of his speech to notice her.

Finally they came to a spot that seemed to suit him.

"Guess I'll take a rest before pulling back," he remarked, and shipping one oar he paddled the boat into the bank where some overhanging trees gave perfect shelter and shade from a sun strangely hot for October.

"Mary," he said, when he finally had the boat arranged to his liking, "I'm sorry for what happened last time I saw you. I didn't mean to talk that way, but somehow I seemed to see you for the first time, and I wanted you, and I kind of forgot."

"Yes, Danny," she murmured. "It wasn't that I didn't want to say what I was going to. But I didn't have the right. I wanted you, but I couldn't ask you to be my wife when I had something else that I had sworn to do before I even thought of myself. It's Dick, Mary. I've got to find him. Somehow it's always seemed that at the back of my mind I'd known that I was going to marry you some day, but I've always thought of Dick first and he's come to mean the thing I'm doing. That's all I'm on the cops for."

Danny was only explaining, but it was far from what Mary had been hoping to hear. To her it was disaster, and Danny saw the strange, hurt look in her eyes.

"Mary, I didn't know that I was hurting you. I knew when I had said it and I would have died to take it back. Now I want to tell you that . . ."

Danny was going to say "that I meant it," but the spot they had chosen was one of the few lonely ones available, and at that moment the nose of another boat brushed gently against theirs. The occuarriving herself and together they started for Central Park, where Danny planned to do a little rowing and a lot of talking.

The trip uptown was quiet enough. The BMT is not conducive to talking, but during the long walk from the 56th street subway station to the park boathouse, Danny poured out his story.

"So Jimmy thinks that Dayton is telling the crooks when the silk arrives?" asked Mary.

"Yes, and the way he tells it, it sounds about right," answered Danny. Mary thought a moment. During his tale she had been thinking fast, and one incident stuck in her memory.

"Danny, I think he's right. I'm sure he is. I've been wondering for days where he was getting all his money from and a few days after the last robbery he had a big deficit at his brokers' to meet. I knew he didn't have the money, yet he must have paid them for they aren't worrying him any more. Then too, he's the only one who didn't seem to worry when the robbery took place. I'm sure Jimmy's right."

"Gee, that's great," Danny burst out, "all we've got to do is catch him and post the boys that there's going to be another raid, and we'll have the whole gang."

"Yes," mused the girl, "but he can't use the office phone or I'd have heard him before. I don't see how I'm going to find out. What I do know though, is that a cargo of silk from the 'Takima' was unloaded into the warehouses today. Maybe they'll try for that."

"Jimmy thinks they will, and if you see or hear anything that sounds funny let either Jimmy or me know, and we'll fix them."

By now they were at the boathouse, and having hired the necessary boat, cushions and rugs, Danny proceeded to row towards the further end of the lake. He had something on his mind that seemed just then to be of more importance than a score of robberies. What was worrying him, was whether Jimmy was right as to Mary's willingness to be agreeable.

Mary knew as well as Danny did that he wanted to talk to her, and she smiled to herself at the care he was taking to find a spot where no one would hear. It would have been okay with her if he had chosen Times Square, so long as he chose somewhere.

During the mile long pull down the lake Mary talked about anything that came into her head. She couldn't keep quiet and as she gazed at Danny's straining arms that gentleman could have read all he wanted to know in her slight

"What'd you find out about the new cop, Sparky?"

It was Bull Savage speaking and the old joint on Snell street was quiet for an instant as they waited the report.

"He's a tough egg, chief, we're going to have trouble with him. Mulligan asked him in for a drink and he sure sounded like he meant it when he said no. What the hell, you worrying about . . . I'll get Malone like I got the other guy."

Bull laughed. "He can't stop bullets like he can horses, eh Sparky. Say kid, turning to Dick who was idling with a deck of cards, 'want the job? Bump the cop off and you get an extra thousand.'"

Dick paled and looked at Bull without answering.

"Gawd, but you're yeller. What yer afraid of? Anyone worrying Sparky? Gawd knows he's bumped off enough . . . an he's still healthy. If yer didn't look like a book-keeping guy I'd give yer the works. What the hell's the cop to you anyway."

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1928

FROM DAYS OF LONG AGO

JOHN L. SMITH, who has a summer home on Round and Long lakes, where the historic Chief Hole-in-the-Day and his tribe of redmen had their stamping ground, brought to the Dispatch office a book redolent of the history of the pioneer days of Brainerd, written by M. C. Russell and entitled "Uncle Dudley's Odd Hours, Being the Vagaries of a Country Editor." An appendix carries J. Proctor Knott's famous speech on Duluth. The volume was compiled and published by Miss Susie M. Russell in 1882.

Mr. Smith is a member of the State Historical society and as such is interested in the progress of the state association as well as the newly formed Crow Wing County Historical society.

There is a story on "Killing Wolves" which is applicable just now when there are so many of the animals roaming about the county. We quote:

"Several reports have reached us of late that wolves were too thick for the comfort of the farmers' pigs and sheep along the 'ravine belt' of country skirting the Mississippi valley in this region.

Needing a little exercise, anyway, and wolf-hunting being our favorite pastime, whenever they happen to be 'comeatable', we resolved to steal quietly out into a few of the neighboring ravines, and spend one day, at least in relieving a neighborhood or two from the dread scourge that was nightly making such havoc among the lambs and innocent little pigs, and things.

The upper edge of the sun had barely peaked across the landscape, when we entered the mouth of a densely wooded hollow, with towering bluffs on either side, holes and caves to be frequently seen away up along their craggy sides. We fixed ourselves with all the modern appliances for carrying on a day's warfare against the savage monsters we were anxious to encounter—our old trusty muzzle-loader, hatchet, carving-knife, couple of doughnuts, etc.

Our path lay through thickets of prickly-ash, over logs and uneven ground, and in fact was as fine a 'wolf-ground' as we had ever seen. Of course, we had never seen much wolf country—anyway, not any, in fact—and had never hunted wolves before, except in theory, and our taste for this kind of sport was only a theoretical one; but in theory we had frequently hunted wolves, and slaughtered a large number in the same way.

Like many a hunter, Russell's one-man expedition only unearthed a jack-rabbit or two and one dismal wolf howl and he reached home and honestly told his family that he had bagged nothing.

URGES EDUCATION FOR LIFE

THE message enunciated by Mrs. Willard Bayliss, and addressed to the members of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is so important and carries such a common sense view of life, that it deserves the widest kind of publicity.

Minnesota club women are asked to work for compulsory study of home-making by girls and agriculture by boys in rural and small communities. Mrs. Bayliss cautions against educating all of the children for college instead of for life. We quote from the record of her message as carried in the St. Paul Pioneer Press:

"Remember," Mrs. Bayliss said in her message, "that the education of our children 'in the ways in which they are to go' is one thing you should know all about—the homes, the schools and the churches.

"Are they going to their own churches for training? See that every child has that opportunity. Are the children in the country getting an education that will help them earn a living when they leave the eighth grade? Or are all the children of all the schools being educated for college and not for life? Find out how many children in your town leave school after eighth grade and how many of them had any vocational training.

"Are our girls being given, before they leave school, any training in home subjects—cooking, sewing, care of the baby, health? Or do they leave school with no preparation at all on these subjects?

"How many of our boys in this wonderful agricultural state are being trained in agriculture? How many in your town are taught even the simplest matters of how to plant, what or when to plant? Why are we neglecting so great an opportunity with both our boys and girls?

"We talk about divorce. How can there be anything else when making a home happy is the last thing ever thought of in connection with a girl's education?

"We bemoan the fact that boys and girls leave home to go to the large cities. How can we expect anything else when their education has never shown them how life in the country is the most satisfying life anywhere?

"We talk incessantly of the failure of farmers to make a living. How can we expect anything else when we do not try by having agriculture taught in every school outside the largest cities to show successful methods? No training is given the boys who have to leave school by the hundreds after the eighth grade in the one subject that is to be their life work—agriculture. Will you as leaders in their community find out why our girls are not training in home-making and our boys in agriculture?"

LETTING LINDBERGH ALONE

LINDBERGH has been flying to the Pacific coast—he got there safely recently—and while he has been on his way these theories of his purpose have been current, says the Duluth Herald:

First—He was going out to take over a new airplane that had been made for him.

Second—He was going out to head a big new airplane company.

Third—He was planning to fly around the world, with a leap over the Pacific ocean as a start.

That's the way they are letting Lindbergh alone. But there is no harm in all this, and it is natural and to be expected. No harm, that is, unless by chance there should be something to that mad story about flying around the world. Probably there is nothing in it; certainly the whole nation will hope so.

A combination of the first two speculations would be about right, especially if heading a great airplane company kept him so busy that he would have no more time for stunt flights of any kind.

SYNOPSIS
Danny Malone, a recruit officer in New York's bluecoat army, is more interested in finding his wayward brother, Lucky, than in either serving the department or winning the girl who loves him, Mary Gillen. An act of bravery in rescuing a boy from a runaway prompts Police Commissioner Leonard to transfer Danny from his post to the silk warehouse district where a series of bold raids by bandits have cost four patrolmen their lives and brought a threat from Alfred Dayton, Sr., a wealthy silk importer, to get Leonard's job unless the robbery stops. Jimmy Wells, a newspaper reporter, enlists Mary's aid by asking her to watch Alfred Dayton, Jr., in whose office she is employed. In the meantime, Bull Savage's gang, of which Dick Malone is a member, is planning another raid on the Dayton warehouse.

Danny marched past and Mulligan returned to his bar murmuring to himself.

"Wonder how long he's going to keep that up. Bet he'll fall some cold night, then maybe we won't have any. To hell with the cops anyway."

Mary didn't see anything of Danny now that he was on night duty and the hours passed too slowly until Saturday afternoon. She wondered a thousand times whether he would show up and each time she was certain that he would. Still she wondered and when his footsteps sounded on the stairs she rushed for her hat and coat as if loath to miss a minute of the afternoon.

"How are things going," asked Dad as Danny entered.

"Great. Where's Mary?"

Mary answered the question by

The trip uptown was quiet enough. The BMT is not conducive to talking, but during the long walk from the 56th street subway station to the park boathouse, Danny poured out his story.

During the mile long pull down the lake Mary talked about anything that came into her head. She couldn't keep quiet and as she gazed at Danny's straining arms that gentleman could have read all he wanted to know in her slightest glance. Danny, however, was paying too much attention to his rowing and the careful preparation of his speech to notice her.

Finally they came to a spot that seemed to suit him.

"Guess I'll take a rest before pulling back," he remarked, and shipping one oar he paddled the boat into the bank where some overhanging trees gave perfect shelter and shade from a sun strangely hot for October.

"Mary," he said, when he finally had the boat arranged to his liking, "I'm sorry for what happened last time I saw you. I didn't mean to talk that way, but somehow I seemed to see you for the first time, an' I wanted you, an' I kind o' forgot."

"Yes, Danny," she murmured.

"It wasn't that I didn't want to say what I was going to. But I didn't have the right. I wanted you, but I couldn't ask you to be my wife when I had something else that I had sworn to do before I even thought of myself. It's Dick, Mary. I've got to find him. Somehow it's always seemed that at the back of my mind I'd known that I was going to marry you some day, but I've always thought of Dick first an' he's come to mean the thing I'm doing. GRUDGE BOUT FOLLOWS BETH'S DECISION OVER TAYLOR

HEAVYWEIGHTS MIX IT IN MAIN EVENT ON WRESTLING CARD

WHEN CUBS GET ON TOP, THEY WILL STAY THERE

BETH WINS FIRST FALL IN 32½ MINUTES FROM A BODY SLAM

TAYLOR TAKES SECOND AND OBJECTS TO THIRD FALL ON TECHNICALITY

A vengeance bout climaxed the wrestling card at the U. C. T. Auditorium last night between Jack Taylor and Big Bill Beth and a near riot by fans was quelled by police who gave Taylor protection in passing to his dressing room after the melee came to a hilarious finish.

It all happened after the two heavyweights had engaged in over an hour's exchange of excruciating toe holds, head locks, double and half Nelsons, body slams, Beth receiving the decision by forcing Taylor to give up in the deciding fall in nine minutes by applying a torturous toe hold.

As the crowd cheered Beth wildly and prepared to leave their seats, Taylor raised his hand and pleaded for quietness. In a commanding voice he raised objection to the decision claiming that Beth grasped the ropes just previously to the fall, and that the decision should really be his on a technical foul. He challenged the right of Beth in accepting the decision and indignantly stated that Beth could never throw him again. The argument became heated and on Beth's willingness to settle it, the two heavyweights met in what proved to be a semi rough and tumble set to. The crowd surged to the ropes, and a few wild-eyed fans hissed repulsive names at Taylor. The two wrestlers went through six minutes of maddening battle, the overtime bout coming to a close when Taylor threw Beth.

Referee Basil T. Heath announced at the close of the bout that Beth had won the decision. Taylor emphatically claimed that he won and wanted to settle the argument in private.

Beth won the first fall in 32½ minutes from a body slam and Taylor, Canadian heavyweight champion took the second on a crotch and half Nelson in 15½ minutes. Beth won the third with a toe hold in nine minutes.

Houston and Robideau of Pine River, 155 pounders, proved the best boys in the preliminaries. The two went 20 minutes to a draw.

Nelson of the South Side outclassed Marta, Front Street, and Sheefer of Pine River won two falls from McAllister, also of Pine River.

The card was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

On April 16 Johnny Beck, Brainerd, will wrestle Fred Ross of Pequot.

spent a lot of

Low t Bar.

The man who usually has the goods but doesn't deliver—the hesitant swain—how do we know him? In conversation with you he may give the impression of being right up to the minute, but does he act that way with strangers? Get his letter and look for these signs:

First notice if his writing runs up hill. If it runs neither uphill or on the level but is inclined to descend then he is easily discouraged. His t bar will start out with heavy pressure, perhaps, but it will get lighter as it goes along and will end with a sharp point. At the end of each word you will find the last letter fails to reach out toward the right. He will usually write a small hand. The capitals will be comparatively small and none of the upright letters will reach very high. Toward the end of each long word you will find that the letters become smaller. If he writes a back-hand style then you may put him down as having all of these traits to a pronounced degree. And seldom will you see the sign of emphasis—the heavy t bar or terminal. Look for the signs of repression in his writing as shown in the chapter on, "Does He Withhold His Ability?"

Note—Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied.

CLUB BEATING CUBS WINS THE NATIONAL FLAG

MANAGER MCCARTHY SAYS CHICAGO CLUB HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED

CUYLER HAS IMBUED WHOLE TEAM WITH AGGRESSIVE SPIRIT

Following is the twelfth of a series of United Press interviews with major league managers. Today: Joe McCarthy, Chicago Cubs. Tomorrow: Bart Shotton, Philadelphia Phillies.

(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)

Kansas City, April 5.—"The club that beats us will win the National League pennant," Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, told the United Press here today.

"We've strengthened our club considerably and when we get on top this time we'll stay there," he continued. "It will be remembered that the Cubs led the National League race all during August last year only to collapse and fall away to fourth place."

McCarthy believes his club has the power for a sustained drive this season and will not crack as it did in 1927.

"Pittsburgh, New York and Brooklyn look strong to me," McCarthy said. "and the Boston Braves will be considerably better. In the American League the Yankees will finish on top or close to it."

Asked if he thought the trade, which sent Sparky Adams to the Pirates in exchange for Cuyler, had weakened the Cubs' infield, McCarthy said:

"I wouldn't have made any such trade if I thought it would have hurt our club. Our infield suits me fine. Fred Maguire and Norman McMillan will be able to take care of second base and young Woody English, at short stop, will be better than ever this year. He's only 21 and he's bound to get better each season."

"We are well fortified at third base with Johnny Butler and Elmer Yeter. We have a good utility infielder in Jacobs from Los Angeles, but much of his value depends on whether his leg comes around."

Cuyler has not only made the Cubs' infield in the opinion of McCarthy, but he has imbued the entire team with a spirit it has never known before.

The Cubs' pitching will be better this season, McCarthy predicted.

GENE TUNNEY TO BOX HEENEY EARLY IN JULY

"BUT WHAT OF THE OTHER CONTENDERS?" ASKS SPORT WRITER

JOHNNY RISCO HAD A BUSY SEASON AND IS NOW OUT OF WORK

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 5.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney will defend his heavyweight title against Tom Heenev in July, but what of the other contenders?

Johnny Risko, the chubby Cleveland, occupies the peculiar position of having whipped most of the heavyweights and now is out of work.

He has nothing to gain by going out and fighting them over again, and he might get licked this time by any of the lot. Johnny is the kind of a fighter who stands a chance to lose any time he goes into the ring.

His awkward style places him at the mercy of the referee and judges and in a close bout he might get the worst of it just like he did against Heenev out in Detroit.

"Risko beat Sharkey and the best Heenev could get was a draw," said Danny Dunn, Risko's manager.

"Risko beat Paolino and the Basque beat Heenev and held him to a draw."

Dunn still has hopes of matching Risko with Tunney this year, perhaps in a September bout.

Jack Sharkey, the big gob from Boston, who was slated as early as last December to get the title chance this year, but failed in his two bouts with Heenev and Risko, plans a comeback, but can't find any worthy opponent to start on. Sharkey has signed to meet Jack Delaney April 30, but Joe Jacobs, believing Delaney can make more money fighting for Humbert Fugazy, has refused to sign with Rickard for a Sharkey bout.

Although disappointed over Sharkey's deterioration from last year, Johnny Buckley, his manager, is confident the Lithuanian will fight himself back to the top.

"Jack never had his heart in the game this winter," Buckley said. "He thought he could whip Heenev without training and he refused to take Risko seriously. He's dead set on coming back."

Jack Delaney is up a tree as to whether he can make more money fighting as a heavyweight or going back to the light-heavyweight division and meeting Tommy Loughran for the 175-pound title.

ARNE SUOMINEN RETAINS HIS TIME LEAD IN DERBY

IS NOW MORE THAN FIVE HOURS AHEAD OF NEAREST COMPETITOR

35 MILE LAP TODAY EXTENDS FROM VEGA, TEXAS, TO AMARILLO

Vega, Texas, April 5.—(U.P.)—Suominen, sturdy Detroit Finn, maintaining a time lead of more than five hours, broke the trail today in the 35-mile lap to Amarillo, Texas, in C. C. Pyle's cross-continent foot race.

Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, Eng., won yesterday's 33.7-mile lap from Glenrio, N. M., in 5:14:10. Olli Wanttinen, New York, Suominen and Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., finished in order named. William Kerr, Minneapolis, was eighth in the list of leaders, his time being 22:54:09 for the 1,152 miles.

FIGURES show that more Prince Albert is smoked by experienced jimmy-pipers than any other brand. You might give any of a dozen reasons why they bought their first tin of P. A. But their tenth and their hundredth . . . only demonstrated quality can account for that! Wouldn't you say so?

The very fragrance of P. A. is an indication of the quality-taste still to come. The first fire-up makes good on the aromatic promise. Cool as a steeple-jack doing his stuff. Sweet as getting back to earth again safely. Mild and mellow and long-burning. Some tobacco, Men, and no mistake!

If you don't know the joys of a pipe packed with P. A., get busy and make up for lost time. No matter what your present set-up may be, try Prince Albert. It is not an experiment, but an experience—a little journey into a land of pipe-joy that you'll take many times every day.

The revenue stamp tells you—TWO full ounces in every tin.

GRUDGE BOUT FOLLOWS BETH'S DECISION OVER TAYLOR

HEAVYWEIGHTS MIX IT IN MAIN EVENT ON WRESTLING CARD

WHEN CUBS GET ON TOP, THEY WILL STAY THERE

BETH WINS FIRST FALL IN 32½ MINUTES FROM A BODY SLAM

TAYLOR TAKES SECOND AND OBJECTS TO THIRD FALL ON TECHNICALITY

A vengeance bout climaxed the wrestling card at the U. C. T. Auditorium last night between Jack Taylor and Big Bill Beth and a near riot by fans was quelled by police who gave Taylor protection in passing to his dressing room after the melee came to a hilarious finish.

It all happened after the two heavyweights had engaged in over an hour's exchange of excruciating toe holds, head locks, double and half Nelsons, body slams, Beth receiving the decision by forcing Taylor to give up in the deciding fall in nine minutes by applying a torturous toe hold.

As the crowd cheered Beth wildly and prepared to leave their seats, Taylor raised his hand and pleaded for quietness. In a commanding voice he raised objection to the decision claiming that Beth grasped the ropes just previously to the fall, and that the decision should really be his on a technical foul. He challenged the right of Beth in accepting the decision and indignantly stated that Beth could never throw him again. The argument became heated and on Beth's willingness to settle it, the two heavyweights met in what proved to be a semi rough and tumble set to. The crowd surged to the ropes, and a few wild-eyed fans hissed repulsive names at Taylor. The two wrestlers went through six minutes of maddening battle, the overtime bout coming to a close when Taylor threw Beth.

Referee Basil T. Heath announced at the close of the bout that Beth had won the decision. Taylor emphatically claimed that he won and wanted to settle the argument in private.

Beth won the first fall in 32½ minutes from a body slam and Taylor, Canadian heavyweight champion took the second on a crotch and half Nelson in 15½ minutes. Beth won the third with a toe hold in nine minutes.

Houston and Robideau of Pine River, 155 pounders, proved the best boys in the preliminaries. The two went 20 minutes to a draw.

Nelson of the South Side outclassed Marta, Front Street, and Sheefer of Pine River won two falls from McAllister, also of Pine River.

The card was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

On April 16 Johnny Beck, Brainerd, will wrestle Fred Ross of Pequot.

The Hesitant Swain

Diminishing t Bars.

spent a lot of
Low t Bar.

The man who usually has the goods but doesn't deliver—the hesitant swain—how do we know him? In conversation with you he may give the impression of being right up to the minute, but does he act that way with strangers? Get his letter and look for these signs:

First notice if his writing runs up hill. If it runs neither uphill or on the level but is inclined to descend then he is easily discouraged. His t bar will start out with heavy pressure, perhaps, but it will get lighter as it goes along and will end with a sharp point. At the end of each word you will find the last letter fails to reach out toward the right. He will usually write a small hand. The capitals will be comparatively small and none of the upright letters will reach very high. Toward the end of each long word you will find that the letters become smaller. If he writes a back-hand style then you may put him down as having all of these traits to a pronounced degree. And seldom will you see the sign of emphasis—the heavy t bar or terminal. Look for the signs of repression in his writing as shown in the chapter on, "Does He Withhold His Ability?"

AUSTIN, TEXAS, FALLS BEFORE SENSATIONAL CARR CREEK, KY., TEAM

Chicago, April 5.—(UP)—Sixteen teams, representing fifteen states, entered the third round of the University of Chicago's tenth annual national interscholastic basketball tournament here today.

Illinois, with Canton and Oak Park high schools, was the only state which had more than one survivor in today's round.

Yesterday's play saw the elimination of one of the pre-tournament favorites, Austin, Texas, which fell before the sensational Carr Creek, Ky., team.

Vienna, Ga., another favorite, entered the third round by beating Yankton, S. D., in a one-sided contest.

Today's games:
11 A. M.—Jacksonville, Fla., vs. Alexandria, La.
12 A. M.—Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, vs. Morris, Ala.
3 P. M.—Canton, Ill., vs. Tulsa, Okla.

4 P. M.—Stivers, Dayton, O., vs. St. George, Utah.
5 P. M.—Mize, Miss., vs. Grand Forks, N. D.
7 P. M.—Oregon, Mo., vs. Ashland, Ky.
8 P. M.—Oak Park, Ill., vs. Vienna, Ga.
9 P. M.—Bristol, Conn., vs. Carr Creek, Ky.

Chicago, Ill., April 5.—The strong Rock Springs, Wyo., quintet eliminated Cantonsville, Md., 37 to 15, in the first match of today's consolation play in the national interscholastic tournament.

The western team took an early lead and never was headed.

The second consolation game went to the Portsmouth, Va., team, which defeated Rutland, Vt., 25 to 17. Alexandria, La., high school was the first team to survive the third round, defeating Jacksonville, Fla., 24 to 19.

Morris, Ala., defeated Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, 31 to 21.

CLUB BEATING CUBS WINS THE NATIONAL FLAG

MANAGER MCCARTHY SAYS CHICAGO CLUB HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED

CUYLER HAS IMBUED WHOLE TEAM WITH AGGRESSIVE SPIRIT

Following is the twelfth of a series of United Press interviews with major league managers. Today: Joe McCarthy, Chicago Cubs. Tomorrow: Burt Shotton, Philadelphia Phillies.

(Copyright, 1928, by United Press)

Kansas City, April 5.—"The club that beats us will win the National League pennant," Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, told the United Press here today.

"We've strengthened our club considerably and when we get on top this time we'll stay there," he continued. "It will be remembered that the Cubs led the National League race all during August last year only to collapse and fall away to fourth place."

McCarthy believes his club has the power for a sustained drive this season and will not crack as it did in 1927.

"Pittsburgh, New York and Brooklyn look strong to me," McCarthy said. "and the Boston Braves will be considerably better. In the American League the Yankees will finish on top or close to it."

Asked if he thought the trade which sent Sparky Adams to the Pirates in exchange for Cuyler had weakened the Cubs' infield, McCarthy said:

"I wouldn't have made any such trade if I thought it would have hurt our club. Our infield suits me fine. Fred Maguire and Norman McMillan will be able to take care of second base and young Woody English, at short stop, will be better than ever this year. He's only 21 and he's bound to get better each season."

"We are well fortified at third base with Johnny Butler and Elmer Yeter. We have a good utility infielder in Jacobs from Los Angeles, but much of his value depends on whether his leg comes around."

Cuyler has not only made the Cubs' infield in the opinion of McCarthy, but he has imbued the entire team with a spirit it has never known before.

The Cubs' pitching will be better this season, McCarthy predicted.

GENE TUNNEY TO BOX HEENEY EARLY IN JULY

"BUT WHAT OF THE OTHER CONTENDERS?" ASKS SPORT WRITER

JOHNNY RISKIO HAD A BUSY SEASON AND IS NOW OUT OF WORK

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 5.—(UP)—Gene Tunney will defend his heavyweight title against Tom Heenev in July, but what of the other contenders.

Johnny Riskio, the chubby Cleveland, occupies the peculiar position of having whipped most of the heavyweights and now is out of work.

He has nothing to gain by going out and fighting them over again, and he might get licked this time by any of the lot. Johnny is the kind of a fighter who stands a chance to lose any time he goes into the ring. His awkward style places him at the mercy of the referee and judges and in a close bout he might get the worst of it just like he did against Heenev out in Detroit.

"Riskio beat Sharkey and the best Heenev could get was a draw," said Danny Dunn, Riskio's manager.

"Riskio beat Paolino and the Basque beat Heenev and held him to a draw."

Dunn still has hopes of matching Riskio with Tunney this year, perhaps in a September bout.

Jack Sharkey, the big gob from Boston, who was slated as early as last December to get the title chance this year, but failed in his two bouts with Heenev and Riskio, plans a comeback, but can't find any worthy opponent to start on. Sharkey has signed to meet Jack Delaney April 30, but Joe Jacobs, believing Delaney can make more money fighting for Humbert Fugazy, has refused to sign with Rickard for a Sharkey bout.

Although disappointed over Sharkey's deterioration from last year, Johnny Buckley, his manager, is confident the Lithuanian will fight himself back to the top.

"Jack never had his heart in the game this winter," Buckley said. "He thought he could whip Heenev without training and he refused to take Riskio seriously. He's dead set on coming back."

Jack Delaney is up a tree as to whether he can make more money fighting as a heavyweight or going back to the light-heavyweight division and meeting Tommy Loughran for the 175-pound title.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, 93. DIES OF PNEUMONIA

He served until 1893 when he became chairman of the board.
Probably the highest point in Depew's political life came in 1888 when Depew was a contender for the republican presidential nomination. He finally withdrew to support Harrison.
Even outranking Depew's political and business successes, however, was his success in phrasing his beliefs on life—beliefs he annually gave to the public on April 23.
He would discuss anything.
When he was about to celebrate his 92nd birthday he said:
"I think my age is due to the fact that I have been on good terms with humankind. I have made strenuous efforts to be calm, to be tranquil. I have cultivated people all my life because I liked them."
Year after year he watched his friends and comrades die, felt deeply grieved at their passing, but contented he would keep on because he watched his diet and remained exceedingly cheerful and felt young. He gave up red meat because it did not agree with him. He had to give up tea. He gave up champagne. Then in his 92nd year he had to give up coffee.
But he said it was worth it.
Marriage to Chauncey Depew was something wonderful. He had been married since 1871.
"Many young people regard marriage as a joke; they enter upon it without understanding of the adjustments that must be made. Gentlemen, go back to the simple life of a country village of 91 years ago. I left such a village when I was 30 years old. There had not been a divorce in this village of 2,500 persons in years and years. I think that if a divorce had been obtained the principals would have been boycotted. For all this talk of divorce, there has been a tremendous increase in the happiness of home life," he once said.
He was an ardent believer in his country, and in the business life of the United States. Some of his beliefs on business and the United States included:
"Our natural wealth is greater than that of all Europe and is owned, in a greater or less degree, by an overwhelming percentage of our population.
"The greatest and most beneficent change which has occurred in our time is the improvement of the relations between capital and labor."
"Most successful men have owed their success to their absolute confidence in the future of the United States."
And one of his most famous sayings was:
"This is a mighty good world to live in—and I want to stay here as long as I can."

Check Flu-Grip By Using Vicks at First Sneeze

Health Authorities Urge Precaution to Prevent Epidemic

If all colds were checked at the beginning, influenza, pneumonia and grip would be greatly reduced.

It takes quick action to get ahead of the germs of these dread diseases. Many cases of flu start from germs breathed in. The effective way to attack them is direct—with vapors of Vicks VapoRub.

When rubbed on the throat and chest the ingredients of Vicks are released in the form of vapors which, being breathed in, carry medication to the inflamed air passages and lungs direct and instantly. In addition, it acts like a poultice and helps the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

While grip and influenza are so prevalent local people are urged to keep Vicks VapoRub ready at all times for instant use. —Advt.

AMERICAN CHANCES BEST FOR SPRINTS

Coach Names Four Stars for Short Runs.

Eddie Farrell, Harvard track coach and member of the 1924 American Olympic coaching staff, believes that America's sprinters will provide the United States with the best chances for winning track events at this year's Olympics in Amsterdam. He bases his opinion on comparative times turned in during the last year or so by the leading sprinters of the world. Of the European stars, Anderson of Norway; Sjostrom, Sweden; Eomer, Switzerland; Huben and Kornig of Germany, and Larento of Spain have all done better than an official 10.8 seconds for 100 meters.

"America's best bets over the short distance are Charlie Borah of southern California, Chet Bowman, A. C. Locke and Al Miller," Farrell said. "Miller, by the way, has done .009 for the 100 and ought to be a real threat."

Charlie Paddeck, the veteran California speed merchant, has passed his crest, Farrell thinks, and will be hard put to regain his form of eight years ago.

In the 200-meter event, Farrell's leading European choices for the 100-meter dash will be augmented by Peterson of Sweden and Svenhach of Poland, all of whom have been clocked in 22 seconds or better. Borah and Locke are considered the pick of the American sprinters for the longer distance, with Alderman of Michigan Aggies labeled as "some one to watch."

Young Stribling Plans to Battle All Comers

"Pa" and "Ma" Stribling are back in the boxing game.

It was "Pa" and "Ma" traveling with Young Stribling in an auto-house car that gave the young man much of his prominence in the fistie world.

Last year William, Jr., was under the watchful eye of Walk Miller, manager of a string of boxers, but the contract expired the first of the year and once more "Pa" Stribling assumed charge.

This time it will be the Airplane Special, carrying the trio from place to place, and the air pilot will be none other than Young Stribling himself.

It will be the first time in history that a boxer has traveled from place to place with his family by airplane. Stribling intends to meet all comers during his tour about the country, both light heavies and heavyweights.

Know Your Sweetheart by His Handwriting

By EDNA PURDY WALSH
Editor, Character Reading Magazine.

Is He Easily Discouraged?

ups and downs
my dear family

No one can afford to take on a life partner who is easily discouraged. The characteristics of discouragement are easily traced in the writing and go hand in hand with pessimism.

Look for the lines of the writing to run down hill. They will descend to the right of the page if the writer loses his faith easily. His t crosses will also descend, starting high at the left and slanting down to the right. But if these lines are made very heavy it means that the writer has a great deal of force and physical energy.

Most frequently the writing of the easily discouraged is light and shows the suggestion of timidity. High letters are common and it is often due to aspiration and high ideals without action-shattered dreams—that the easily discouraged type is created.

A great variation in size of letters, some large and some very small, can be found in the writing of the one who loses hope easily. Words stopping short—no terminals are other good signs as well as a messy sort of style in the writing.

Note—Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied. (Copyright.)

He served until 1898 when he became chairman of the board.
Probably the highest point in Depew's political life came in 1888 when Depew was a contender for the republican presidential nomination. He finally withdrew to support Harrison.
Even outranking Depew's political and business successes, however, was his success in phrasing his beliefs on life—beliefs he annually gave to the public on April 23.
He would discuss anything.
When he was about to celebrate his 92nd birthday he said:
"I think my age is due to the fact that I have been on good terms with humankind. I have made strenuous efforts to be calm, to be tranquil. I have cultivated people all my life because I liked them."
Year after year he watched his friends and comrades die, felt deeply grieved at their passing, but contended he would keep on because he watched his diet and remained exceedingly cheerful and felt young. He gave up red meat because it did not agree with him. He had to give up tea. He gave up champagne. Then in his 92nd year he had to give up coffee.
But he said it was worth it.
Marriage to Chauncey Depew was something wonderful. He had been married since 1871.
"Many young people regard marriage as a joke; they enter upon it without understanding of the adjustments that must be made. Gentlemen, go back to the simple life of a country village of 91 years ago. I left such a village when I was 30 years old. There had not been a divorce in this village of 2,500 persons in years and years. I think that if a divorce had been obtained the principals would have been boycotted. For all this talk of divorce, there has been a tremendous increase in the happiness of home life," he once said.
He was an ardent believer in his country, and in the business life of the United States. Some of his beliefs on business and the United States included:
"Our natural wealth is greater than that of all Europe and is owned, in a greater or less degree, by an overwhelming percentage of our population.
"The greatest and most beneficial change which has occurred in our time is the improvement of the relations between capital and labor."
"Most successful men have owed their success to their absolute confidence in the future of the United States."
And one of his most famous sayings was:
"This is a mighty good world to live in—and I want to stay here as long as I can."

Check Flu-Grip By Using Vicks at First Sneeze

Health Authorities Urge Precaution to Prevent Epidemic

If all colds were checked at the beginning, influenza, pneumonia and grip would be greatly reduced.

It takes quick action to get ahead of the germs of these dread diseases. Many cases of flu start from germs breathed in. The effective way to attack them is direct—with vapors of Vicks VapoRub.

When rubbed on the throat and chest the ingredients of Vicks are released in the form of vapors which, being breathed in, carry medication to the inflamed air passages and lungs direct and instantly. In addition, it acts like a poultice and helps the vapors inhaled to break up the congestion.

While grip and influenza are so prevalent local people are urged to keep Vicks VapoRub ready at all times for instant use. —Adv.

AMERICAN CHANCES BEST FOR SPRINTS

Coach Names Four Stars for Short Runs.

Eddie Farrell, Harvard track coach and member of the 1924 American Olympic coaching staff, believes that America's sprinters will provide the United States with the best chances for winning track events at this year's Olympics in Amsterdam. He bases his opinion on comparative times turned in during the last year or so by the leading sprinters of the world.
Of the European stars, Anderson of Norway; Sjostrom, Sweden; Bomer, Switzerland; Huben and Korrig of Germany, and Larento of Spain have all done better than an official 10.3 seconds for 100 meters.
"America's best bets over the short distance are Charlie Borah of southern California, Chet Bowman, A. C. Locke and Al Miller," Farrell said. "Miller, by the way, has done 10.9 for the 100 and ought to be a real threat."

Charlie Padgett, the veteran California speed merchant, has passed his crest, Farrell thinks, and will be hard put to regain his form of eight years ago.
In the 200-meter event, Farrell's leading European choices for the 100-meter dash will be augmented by Peterson of Sweden and Svenjoch of Poland, all of whom have been clocked in 22 seconds or better. Borah and Locke are considered the pick of the American sprinters for the longer distance, with Alderman of Michigan Aggies labeled as "some one to watch."

Young Stribling Plans to Battle All Comers
"Pa" and "Ma" Stribling are back in the boxing game.
It was "Pa" and "Ma" traveling with Young Stribling in an auto-house car that gave the young man much of his prominence in the fist world.
Last year William, Jr., was under the watchful eye of Walk Miller, manager of a string of boxers, but the contract expired the first of the year and once more "Pa" Stribling assumed charge.
This time it will be the Airplane Special, carrying the trio from place to place, and the air pilot will be none other than Young Stribling himself.
It will be the first time in history that a boxer has traveled from place to place with his family by airplane.
Stribling intends to meet all comers during his tour about the country, both light heavies and heavyweights.

Know Your Sweetheart by His Handwriting

By EDNA PURDY WALSH
Editor, Character Reading Magazine.
Is He Easily Discouraged?

*ups and downs
my dear family.*

No one can afford to take on a life partner who is easily discouraged. The characteristics of discouragement are easily traced in the writing and go hand in hand with pessimism.

Look for the lines of the writing to run down hill. They will descend to the right of the page if the writer loses his faith easily. His t crosses will also descend, starting high at the left and slanting down to the right. But if these lines are made very heavy it means that the writer has a great deal of force and physical energy.

Most frequently the writing of the easily discouraged is light and shows the suggestion of timidity. High letters are common and it is often due to aspiration and high ideals without action-shattered dreams—that the easily discouraged type is created.

A great variation in size of letters, some large and some very small, can be found in the writing of the one who loses hope easily. Words stopping short—no terminals are other good signs as well as a messy sort of style in the writing.

Note.—Do not make final judgment until others signs in writing are studied. (Copyright.)

LEVY ASSESSMENT AGAINST ORE COMPANY

Judge Torrance Orders Action
Against Capital Stock of Northern Minnesota Ore Company
ON PETITION OF RECEIVER

100 Per Cent Assessment Ordered,
Capital Stock Outstanding
$700,000

Graham M. Torrance, judge of the district court, on Tuesday signed an order levying an assessment of 100 per cent against the capital stock of the Northern Minnesota Ore Company. This was done upon the petition of James E. Gibbon of Deerwood, Minn., receiver of the corporation. Mr. Gibbon was appointed receiver of the ore company on September 2, 1927 upon a petition filed by the law firm of Ryan, Ryan, and Ryan of this city in the case of J. M. Mraz against the company. He has since been acting in that capacity and engaged in administering and liquidating the assets of the company.

This company was incorporated in 1917 to produce manganiferous ores on the Cuyuna Range and operated the Northland mine to the north of Rabbit Lake. Upon the termination of the war the demand for manganese ceased and the company stopped operations in Minnesota and purchased a tract of 600 acres of manganese lands in Arkansas which they have since been operating. These properties are at present under lease and being operated under the direction of the receiver.

The company of recent years has had hard financial sledding which finally resulted in the appointment of the receiver. After disposing of all available assets it was found that the creditors of the company could not be paid in full and hence the receiver filed a petition for the assessment of the stockholders. A hearing was held in Bemidji upon his application before Judge Torrance which began on March 21 and continued for several days. The receiver was represented by his attorneys, Ryan, Ryan, and Ryan and many of the stockholders appeared and opposed the application through their attorneys Donald Hughes and Marshall Snyder of Minneapolis and M. F. Condon of New Hampton, Ia. At the hearing it was disclosed that the debts of the company aggregated $366,000 and that an assessment of 100 per cent was necessary. The company has issued and sold $700,000 worth of capital stock which is outstanding. A. K. Knickerbocker and Holman I. Pearl, mining engineers from the Cuyuna Range were called as witnesses for the receiver and testified respecting the valuations of various fee and leasehold interests of the company in ore properties on the Cuyuna and Mesabi ranges.

The order made by Judge Torrance provides that the assessment levied must be paid to the receiver by each stockholder within 60 days and directs the receiver to start suit against each stockholder who does not pay it. Mr. Gibbon is a resident of Deerwood and was connected with the ore company previous to his appointment in the capacity of assistant secretary.

Attorney Clem Ryan when interviewed today stated that the liquidation of the company would cover a period of several years due to the fact that it would be necessary to prosecute many suits in different parts of the country for the collection of the assessment ordered. He also stated that the affairs of the company were in tangled shape and that more or less litigation was necessary involving mining leases, mortgages and the claims of various creditors before the receivership could be terminated.

LEVY ASSESSMENT AGAINST ORE COMPANY

Judge Torrance Orders Action
Against Capital Stock of North-
ern Minnesota Ore Company

ON PETITION OF RECEIVER

100 Per Cent Assessment Ordered,
Capital Stock Outstanding
$700,000

Graham M. Torrance, judge of the district court, on Tuesday signed an order levying an assessment of 100 per cent against the capital stock of the Northern Minnesota Ore Company. This was done upon the petition of James E. Gibbon of Deerwood, Minn., receiver of the corporation. Mr. Gibbon was appointed receiver of the ore company on September 2, 1927 upon a petition filed by the law firm of Ryan, Ryan, and Ryan of this city in the case of J. M. Mraz against the company. He has since been acting in that capacity and engaged in administering and liquidating the assets of the company.

This company was incorporated in 1917 to produce manganese ores on the Cuyuna Range and operated the Northland mine to the north of Rabbit Lake. Upon the termination of the war the demand for manganese ceased and the company stopped operations in Minnesota and purchased a tract of 600 acres of manganese lands in Arkansas which they have since been operating. These properties are at present under lease and being operated under the direction of the receiver.

The company of recent years has had hard financial sledding which finally resulted in the appointment of the receiver. After disposing of all available assets it was found that the creditors of the company could not be paid in full and hence the receiver filed a petition for the assessment of the stockholders. A hearing was held in Bemidji upon his application before Judge Torrance which began on March 21 and continued for several days. The receiver was represented by his attorneys, Ryan, Ryan, and Ryan and many of the stockholders appeared and opposed the application through their attorneys Donald Hughes and Marshall Snyder of Minneapolis and M. F. Condon of New Hampton, Ia. At the hearing it was disclosed that the debts of the company aggregated $366,000 and that an assessment of 100 per cent was necessary. The company has issued and sold $700,000 worth of capital stock which is outstanding. A. K. Knickerbocker and Holman I. Pearl, mining engineers from the Cuyuna Range were called as witnesses for the receiver and testified respecting the valuations of various fee and leasehold interests of the company in ore properties on the Cuyuna and Mesabi ranges.

The order made by Judge Torrance provides that the assessment levied must be paid to the receiver by each stockholder within 60 days and directs the receiver to start suit against each stockholder who does not pay it. Mr. Gibbon is a resident of Deerwood and was connected with the ore company previous to his appointment in the capacity of assistant secretary.

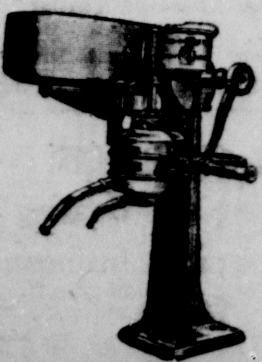

Attorney Clem Ryan when interviewed today stated that the liquidation of the company would cover a period of several years due to the fact that it would be necessary to prosecute many suits in different parts of the country for the collection of the assessment ordered. He also stated that the affairs of the company were in tangled shape and that more or less litigation would be necessary involving mining leases, mortgages and the claims of various creditors before the receivership could be terminated.

The city police are scanning all car licenses these days and as a result 50 motorists were brought into headquarters yesterday to explain why they did not have 1928 license plates on their cars instead of the 1927 licenses.

The majority of the car owners were able to give satisfactory answers and were dismissed with the advice to "get" the 1928 licenses on immediately. Some reported they had applied for licenses and had not received them yet. Others told of having licenses, pleading time to put them on their cars.

All cars must bear the 1928 licenses now. Those failing to have the new plates on will be brought into court, Chief of Police Thomas J. Templeton stated today.

USE OF TONICS IS MONEY WASTE

The use of tonics for dairy cattle is a waste of money, according to E. J. Perry, extension specialist in dairying at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.

Mr. Perry writes in the New Jersey Agriculture, official publication of the college and of the state experiment station: "Every year thousands of dollars are spent by farmers for stock food or tonics which are supposed to stimulate the appetite and keep the cow's system in running order. Results at various experiment stations show that it does not pay to spend money for these patented mixtures. If a cow is managed and fed with reasonable care her appetite does not need stimulating. If she is sick a veterinarian should be called. If a cow is in a run-down condition, has passed the tuberculin test, has solid teeth in her head, and does not respond either in milk or flesh to good old-fashioned feeds such as well-cured hay, silage, corn, oats, bran, and oil meal, there is some vital ailment which it is doubtful if a tonic will cure."

He continues: "It must be admitted of course, that animals sometimes show an improvement following the use of a stock food or tonic, but if the truth were known, this improved condition or higher milk yield would have to be attributed to better all-around care and feeding of the animals. The directions accompanying the tonics are quite likely to specify proper feeding methods."

The writer concludes that if a herd is fed the right kind of roughage and grain there is no need for feeding any patent mixtures of a so-called tonic nature.

Healthy Vigorous Calf

Changed to Skim Milk

A healthy vigorous calf can be changed from whole milk to separator or skim milk when it is about four weeks old. Delay making the change on less thrifty calves until they are five or six weeks old. The change to skim milk must be made gradually, requiring a week to ten days. Each day a little less whole milk is used and a little more skim milk is put in its place. It is not necessary to put anything in the milk to take the place of the cream, but the calf should be given a handful or two of grain following the milk. Three parts oats, one of bran and one of linseed oil meal is a good combination. A little choice clover or alfalfa might also be placed before the calf so it can nibble on it when hungry.

An allowance of ten to fifteen pounds daily, divided into two equal feeds, will be about right at the start and this can be gradually increased to about twenty pounds daily if a good supply is available. The amount given to a young calf should be decided according to its health and vigor.

Two important precautions are to feed the milk while still warm and fresh and to clean the feeding pails thoroughly after every feeding.

Good Grass Pasture Will Stimulate Flow of Milk

Good pasture grass holds a place in the list of delicacies for dairy cows which no other feed can quite fill. It does have a wonderfully stimulating effect on milk production after a cow has gone through the winter on dry feed alone. However, the ability of grass to produce milk is generally overestimated, and a cow cannot maintain a heavy flow of milk on grass alone. Grass, and especially early grass, contains a high percentage of water and it is a physical impossibility for a cow to eat enough to supply nutrients for more than 25 to 30 pounds of milk a day. Cows giving more than this should receive grain in proportion to their production.

High Butterfat Prices With Coming of Grass

The price of butterfat has lately been going higher instead of lower, as most folks are expecting when the smell of green grass is but a few weeks away. This is having a tendency to work the calves off faster as veals. Get them off as soon as the market will take them is the rule with most dairymen, but there is a time when it seems most profitable for the calf to go, at least for the farmer who has a bunch of those cows that "don't exist," namely the all-purpose brute that can raise a calf to become beef or can be milked for cream production. From 150 to 200 pounds in weight is a good farm vealer and usually is the most profitable size.

Cow Is Market

"That's good hay," an extension worker remarked to a busy farmer, who was putting a load of alfalfa in the barn. "But," he added, "a good many other farmers near here are getting better prices for their hay than you are likely to get for this." "How's that?" the surprised farmer then asked. "Because they are feeding it to better live stock. Improved animals pay better return for the feed they get," was the extension worker's reply.

Expression Is Grecian

"Eureka" is of Greek origin. It is a past perfect tense meaning "I have found." In English it is used as an exclamation of triumph upon making a discovery. According to legend, when Archimedes discovered a method of determining the purity of the gold in King Hiero's crown he cried: "Eureka." I have found (it). It is the motto of California.

DAIRY

USE OF TONICS IS MONEY WASTE

The use of tonics for dairy cattle is a waste of money, according to E. J. Perry, extension specialist in dairying at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.

Mr. Perry writes in the New Jersey Agriculture, official publication of the college and of the state experiment station: "Every year thousands of dollars are spent by farmers for stock food or tonics which are supposed to stimulate the appetite and keep the cow's system in running order. Results at various experiment stations show that it does not pay to spend money for these patented mixtures. If a cow is managed and fed with reasonable care her appetite does not need stimulating. If she is sick a veterinarian should be called. If a cow is in a run-down condition, has passed the tuberculin test, has solid teeth in her head, and does not respond either in milk or flesh to good old-fashioned feeds such as well-cured hay, silage, corn, oats, bran, and oil meal, there is some vital ailment which it is doubtful if a tonic will cure."

He continues: "It must be admitted of course, that animals sometimes show an improvement following the use of a stock food or tonic, but if the truth were known, this improved condition or higher milk yield would have to be attributed to better all-round care and feeding of the animals. The directions accompanying the tonics are quite likely to specify proper feeding methods."

The writer concludes that if a herd is fed the right kind of roughage and grain there is no need for feeding any patent mixtures of a so-called tonic nature.

Healthy Vigorous Calf Changed to Skim Milk

A healthy vigorous calf can be changed from whole milk to separator or skim milk when it is about four weeks old. Delay making the change on less thrifty calves until they are five or six weeks old. The change to skim milk must be made gradually, requiring a week to ten days. Each day a little less whole milk is used and a little more skim milk is put in its place. It is not necessary to put anything in the milk to take the place of the cream, but the calf should be given a handful or two of grain following the milk. Three parts oats, one of bran and one of linseed oil meal is a good combination. A little choice clover or alfalfa might also be placed before the calf so it can nibble on it when hungry.

An allowance of ten to fifteen pounds daily, divided into two equal feeds, will be about right at the start and this can be gradually increased to about twenty pounds daily if a good supply is available. The amount given to a young calf should be decided according to its health and vigor.

Two important precautions are to feed the milk while still warm and fresh and to clean the feeding pails thoroughly after every feeding.

Good Grass Pasture Will Stimulate Flow of Milk

Good pasture grass holds a place in the list of delicacies for dairy cows which no other feed can quite fill. It does have a wonderfully stimulating effect on milk production after a cow has gone through the winter on dry feed alone. However, the ability of grass to produce milk is generally overestimated, and a cow cannot maintain a heavy flow of milk on grass alone. Grass, and especially early grass, contains a high percentage of water and it is a physical impossibility for a cow to eat enough to supply nutrients for more than 25 to 30 pounds of milk a day. Cows giving more than this should receive grain in proportion to their production.

High Butterfat Prices With Coming of Grass

The price of butterfat has lately been going higher instead of lower, as most folks are expecting when the smell of green grass is but a few weeks away. This is having a tendency to work the calves off faster as veals. Get them off as soon as the market will take them is the rule with most dairymen, but there is a time when it seems most profitable for the calf to go, at least for the farmer who has a bunch of those cows that "don't exist," namely the all-purpose breeder that can raise a calf to become beef or can be milked for cream production. From 150 to 200 pounds in weight is a good farm vealer and usually is the most profitable size.

Cow Is Market

"That's good hay," an extension worker remarked to a busy farmer, who was putting a load of alfalfa in the barn. "But," he added, "a good many other farmers near here are getting better prices for their hay than you are likely to get for this." "How's that?" the surprised farmer then asked. "Because they are feeding it to better live stock. Improved animals pay better return for the feed they eat," was the extension worker's reply.

Expression Is Grecian

"Eureka" is of Greek origin. It is a past perfect tense meaning "I have found." In English it is used as an exclamation of triumph upon making a discovery. According to legend, when Archimedes discovered a method of determining the purity of the gold in King Hiero's crown he cried: "Eureka." I have found it. It is the motto of California.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes, any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.
